Strengthening Schools and Communities through Diversity

The TMA Charter Leadership Advisory Council

Many of Baltimore's charter schools share TMA's commitment to diversity and quality. The leadership of these schools care passionately about the well-being of all of Baltimore's children, not just those who attend their schools. Our shared goal is an excellent education for children throughout Baltimore, one that prepares them to find their path in 21st Century America – to be college and career ready when it is time for them to move on and to be respectful of others of all backgrounds.

The leaders of the following Baltimore City neighborhood conversion charter schools and city-wide charter schools comprise TMA's Charter Leadership Advisory Council. They have offered to make themselves available to the Thurgood Marshall Alliance as thought partners and to share with TMA's zoned neighborhood schools their experience in creating and sustaining schools of excellence for children of all backgrounds. Their participation is voluntary and advisory.

TMA's relationship with the Advisory Council and the participation of its members is limited to the above statement of purpose and does not extend to other issues involving Baltimore's zoned and charter schools.
